

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

ODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—Of all the monthlies offered in this country, for the intelligent portion of the female sex, Godey's "Lady's Book" is, beyond comparison, the best and most desirable. In a literary point of view, it ranks first among those catered to by our female writers—its corps of constant contributors (who almost wholly write for that magazine), embracing such eminent and popular authors as Mrs. Alice B. Haven (late Neal), Mrs. Hale, Marion Harland, Mrs. Metta Victoria Victor, Mrs. Janvrin, Miss Virginia F. Townsend, &c., &c. In the departments of Fashion, and Patterns, and Specimen Illustration, no magazine in the world can compare with it for beauty and completeness—each issue being a perfect treasury of art and suggestion to the sex. Its Health, Musical, Household, and Garden Departments, are all complete. Its editorial management is directly under the eye and hand of Mr. Godey himself—the secret, we may observe, of the almost uniform excellence and completeness of each number. In commending the "Book" to the "Women of America," we do a grateful and pleasing duty.

DESIRABLE BOOKS.—Derby & Jackson offer a very heavy and choice invoice of their new books for the wants of the reading world. All their late books have been great successes—without exception having run into numerous editions. "Beulah" is a work of a high order, and has had an unusual success. Mrs. Stowe's "Minister's Wooing" is, as we write, commanding general remark and enormous sales. "Ten Years of a Preacher's Life," is one of Mr. Milburn's most agreeable productions, and has proven quite a literary success. The same may be said of "From Dawn to Daylight," understood to have been written by the wife of Henry Ward Beecher. "Miss Slimmen's Window," illustrated by Howard, has sent a laugh through all the country—its humor is irresistible, and its satire as keen as a Toledo blade. Of course, it has gone up into the —th edition. The series of French Classics, edited by O. W. Wight, A. M., is finding a large sale, and will make its way into every well-chosen library. What publishing house in the country can show such a series of uniform successes? See their advertisement on third page of cover.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.—This popular and beneficent Institution is now in its Sixth Year of unparalleled success. It has done more to disseminate art and literary taste throughout the country than any other means yet devised. It receives the support of the leading men of every section. It fills the homes of America with the best works of art. It dispenses the purest literature. It covers the walls with engravings of rare beauty. It is, in fact, the only art exponent in America.

Governors, editors, ministers, artists, mechanics, merchants, and the women of America, have given it the seal of their approbation. At small cost it places within the reach of all classes the means of beautifying homes, thus becoming the medium of advancing good taste and social progress. Its past five years of successful results are evidence of its beneficence, and prove that such an institution is a great public want!

From over two thousand notices we quote at random:

"Its results are a national benefit."—Baltimore American.

"Receives support of cultivated classes."—Boston Express.

"Its objects are in every way laudable."—Troy Whig.

"Has earned an enviable name for fairness."—Rich. Dem.

"Its permanency is beyond a doubt."—Rep., Sycamore Ill.

"Richly merits patronage."—Iowa City Rep.

"Its success is the best evidence of its merits."—Baltimore Express.

"Its purpose is a noble one."—Hyannis Messenger.

"Advise all to aid it."—Witness, Middleton, Conn.

"We were rejoiced at the founding of this institution, having a sure basis in its appeal to the profit as well as tastes of the American people, and particularly because we felt satisfied that its direction was in the hands of gentlemen of irreproachable character, enlightened taste and judgment, and ample resources to meet all their pledges to the public. What a flood of art will be spread over the land."—N. Y. Mirror.

"Founded upon such a sound basis, and conducted in so just a manner as to be well calculated to receive public confidence and patronage, and to accomplish its purpose."—Savannah Jour. of Com.

WHAT THE PRESS SAYS OF THE COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL.—This very beautiful magazine, which every subscriber in the Cosmopolitan Art Association gets gratis, in addition to the engraving of "Shakspeare," is one of the most elegant and valuable magazines published. It contains a great many large pages of choice articles, costly steel engravings, and numerous illustrations. Among the innumerable notices from the press concurring in the above statement, the following will suffice:

"It fully maintains its high character as a record of art and literature. Its typography and illustrations are admirable."—Harper's Magazine.

"The best and cheapest publication of the kind extant."—Boston Post.

"Deserves a large patronage."—Baptist Recorder.

"Splendid affair."—Citizen, Ithaca, N. Y.

"Its excellences have made it famous."—Standard, Gloversville.

"Worth the whole subscription."—Baltimore Clipper.

"How so valuable a work can be afforded at so moderate a price, is a mystery."—Patriot, Concord, N. H.

"In every respect a perfect gem."—Democrat, Greenfield.

"Magnificent Quarterly."—Witness, Middletown, Conn.

"One of the most recherche."—N. O. Delta.

"Articles choice; engravings superb."—Argus, Towanda, Pa.

"Popular throughout the world."—News, Darien, Wis.

"Very high order of merit."—Dedham, (Mass.) Gazette.

"All lovers of art should have it."—Rome (Ga.) Courier.

"No magazine surpasses it."—Iowa City Republican.

"We have received the September number of this high-toned journal. Connected as it is with the fine arts, the exponent of everything connected with painting, poetry, and sculpture, it is, perhaps, to the man of leisure, refinement, and study, the only work extant calculated to afford him instruction and amusement. The present number is full of interesting matter, and the illustrations, both as regards design and execution, beautiful specimens of art. The frontispiece, "Life's Happy Hours," is a gem in its way; the face of the boy, the prominent figure, is exquisitely drawn."—Philadelphia Atlas.